The Origins of the SPICE Framework

The SPICE Framework and the SPICE Tools are the product of Michael Croft's passion and commitment.

The SPICE Framework is a registered trademark of Innovation People Limited, the business he established in 2008 to research and develop fresh approaches to developing people and organisations.

Aside from Michael's research, he brings nearly 40 years experience to bear in developing the SPICE Framework and the SPICE Tools. Trained in Business, H.R. and Learning & Development, Michael cut his professional teeth specialising in the development of both evaluation systems and learning communities.

As a business Innovation People Limited lives out core beliefs in building value through people, holding to a vision to develop people through relevant practical resources that impact measurably on performance.
